ease public investment in agriculture so as to achieve the targeted growth rate in agriculture. These.two schemes are expected to go a long way in operationalising many of the provisions of the National Policy for Farmers, 2007 through state specific de-centralized strategy taking into account the agro-climatic and other local conditions for development of agriculture and allied sectors.

Implementation of Crop Insurance Scheme

†1556. SHRI UDAY PRATAP SINGH: Will the Minister of AGRICULTURE be pleased to state:

whether Government is considering on simplification and effective implementation of the Crop Insurance Scheme; and if so, the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE (SHRI KANTILAL BHURIA): (a) and (b) Yes, Sir. In pursuant to the Union Budget Announcement for 2007-08 a pilot Weather Based Crop Insurance Scheme (WBCIS) has already been implemented during Kharif, 2007.Rabi 2007-08 in selected areas/crops in the States of Karnataka, Rajasthan, Bihar, Chhattisgarh and Maharashtra. The scheme insures farmers . against the likelihood of financial loss on account of anticipated loss in crop yield resulting from adverse incidence of weather conditions. The scheme is simple and provides quick compensation to fanners, as it is based on weather indices. The scheme will be continued during Kharif, 2008.

Food Processing Units in Orissa

1557. MS. PRAMILA BOHIDAR: SHRI
B.J. PANDA:

Will the Minister of AGRICULTURE be pleased to state:

whether, on account of lack of food-processing units in certain districts of Orissa, the farmers have been forced to sell their maize produce at throw-away prices and rains have further played spoilsport for corn farmers of KBK region;

if so, the details thereof; and the action plan of the Centre to help the backward Orissa State both physically and financially to address the above long-standing grievance of the beleaguered farmers?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE (SHRI « KANTILAL BHURIA): (a) to (c) No information on the farmers of certain districts of Orissa having been forced to sell their maize produce at throw-away prices due to lack of processing units has been received.
